Purpose

This POPI notice outlines the practices of Selah-Risk Advisory concerning the use and protection of the information provided by users of this website. Selah-Risk Advisory is dedicated to safeguarding your privacy and ensuring that any information you provide is used appropriately, in accordance with this privacy statement.

Information collection

We may collect the following information:

- Name and job title
- Contact information, including email address
- Demographic details such as postcode, preferences, and interests
- Other information relevant to customer surveys and offers

The information we gather is utilized for the following purposes

- Internal record keeping
- Improvement of products and services
- Periodic sending of promotional emails about new products, special offers, or other relevant information
- Occasional contact for market research purposes via email, phone, fax, or mail
- Customization of the website based on user interests

Security measures

We are committed to ensuring the security of your information. Appropriate physical, electronic, and managerial procedures are in place to prevent unauthorized access or disclosure of the data we collect online.

Cookie usage

- Cookies are small files stored on your computer's hard drive, with your consent, to analyze web traffic or personalise your browsing experience. These cookies enable us to tailor our website to your preferences by gathering information about your browsing habits.
- We use traffic log cookies to analyze web page traffic for statistical purposes and improve our website's functionality. Cookies do not grant access to your computer or personal information unless voluntarily provided by you.
- You have the option to accept or decline cookies through your web browser settings, although declining cookies may limit your access to certain features of the website.

Links to external websites

Our website may contain links to other websites for your convenience. However, once you leave our site via these links, we have no control over the privacy practices of the external websites. Therefore, we cannot be held responsible for the protection and privacy of any information you provide while visiting such sites.

Managing your information

You have the right to control the collection and use of your personal information by:

- Opting out of direct marketing activities when filling out website forms
- Changing your preferences regarding the use of your personal information for marketing purposes by contacting us via email
- We do not sell, distribute, or lease your personal information to third parties unless authorised by you or required by law. If you believe any information we hold about you is inaccurate or incomplete, please contact us promptly to rectify the issue.

Updates and changes

Changes to this policy may occur periodically, and updates will be reflected on this page. It is advisable to check this page periodically to stay informed about any changes.
